Denise Coke

Visual Artist, Animator, Illustrator

Denise Coke Freelance graphic designer, visual designer, developer, motion graphic designer, and illustrator; Denise Coke has been designing professionally since 2011 with her business $NP Designs.

Currently, she serves as a Senior Designer at Orange Label Advertising Agency in Newport Beach, CA, and oversees creative implementation in various healthcare and retail properties. Previously, she was a designer for The Madison Square Garden Company working on various properties from the New York Rockettes to the New York Knicks, and previously serving as the lead motion graphics designer for the NY Rangers in New York, NY.

After acquiring a certificate in Textiles from HSFI, Denise received her BFA in Graphic Design from the Shintaro Akatsu School of Design in Bridgeport, CT, and studied abroad at Hanyang University in South Korea.

One of her greatest passions is travel; as she has been inspired by the different aesthetics that she has seen on trips to places like South Korea, Abu Dhabi, and Puerto Rico. There is no doubt that Denise will continue to be inspired and in turn inspire others with her work.
